

Best/Worst Week Update

27 March 2017 – Small Cap absolutely dominated both the upside and bottom this week taking all 10 of the 10 available spots. Activity was slightly weighted to Information Technology on the top side and split between Consumer Discretionary and Materials on the bottom side.

All 10 of the stocks listed on the top side are new to the weekly list with a sizable jump of 44% slightly better than last weeks Nektar Therapeutics post at 42%. Last week the weakest of the top 10 was 12.6% and this week #10 only reached 7.47%. Once we moved past the #5 spot, gains were much less than the previous week. The top performers gave up much of earlier gains.

In general, both the top and bottom performers did not perform as well as last week. Outside of the #1 bottom performer, Finish Line [FINL] all of the bottom stocks performed much worse than last week as a group.
